

We don't just build houses. We can design and build any structure you need. We've done detached garages, pavillions, pool houses, even a hunting lodge addition. One of our goals is to make our customers so happy with our work that we're the first name you think of when you need additional structures built on your property.

Let us assure you that our service to you doesn't end when your house is complete. Houses need lots of maintenance and we're here to help you along the way. For example if your log home needs to be restained we can help you with that task. We want our customers to remain happy with their homes long after construction is complete so we will help you in anyway we can to keep your home looking new.
